Freedom of Information response, East West Rail (EWR)

- ▶ Gallagher, Strategy Director at EWR, had at least two meetings with Thakeham over a six-month period in 2019, though we have been provided no information about the content of the meetings.
- ▶ The initial email of introduction from Thakeham to EWR includes an assertion about their relationship with Homes England. Homes England is a government agency tasked with accelerating housing delivery, and sits within the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government, which is led by Robert Jenrick MP.
- ▶ On 8 February 2019, Thakeham wrote the following to EWR:
- ▶ “I write as we are assembling a sizeable potential development on the Oxford/Cambridge Arc. We are moving through legalities with land that can yield 10,000-15,000 properties currently and negotiating on further land attached that could see us at 25,000-30,000 units in total. We are in advanced discussions with Homes England to join us as our promotion and delivery partner.”
- ▶ The last sentence is somewhat at odds with what Thakeham indicated to us on 4 January 2021, when they confined their comments relating to Homes England to simply, “Homes England know of the scheme’s existence”.

Freedom of Information responses, Treasury: ‘release of information would have a detrimental impact’

Requests:

“Please disclose details that you hold of all meetings between a) the property development company known as Thakeham (including limited companies Thakeham Homes Limited, Thakeham Client Limited, Thakeham Homes (Southern) Limited) and/or any of its subsidiary companies and/or any of its representatives, and b) Rishi Sunak MP, Stephen Barclay MP, Robert Jenrick MP, Simon Clarke MP and Kemi Badenoch MP from 24/07/2019 to date.”

“Please disclose all documents that you hold (including, but not limited to, notes, memos, papers, emails, letters and presentations) relating to the ‘New Town in Cambridge’ referred to in the 2020 Budget from 24/07/2019 to date.”

Response to both: “...a qualified exemption...protecting the Government’s ability to discuss and develop policies and to reach well-formed conclusions. The Information Commissioner has recognised that policy development needs some degree of freedom to enable the process to work effectively and we consider that there is a strong public interest in protecting information where release would be likely to have a detrimental impact on the ongoing development of policy.”

'National Economic Priority': key geography for national economic growth, as identified by Government

- ▶ Currently 7% of UK GDP
- ▶ With the right interventions and investment, economic forecasts suggest that by 2050 we would see economic output growing by between £80.4 billion and £163 billion per annum, with between 476,500 and 1.1 million additional jobs.
- ▶ 'Government-led approach to strategic planning'
- ▶ In order to achieve the Arc's potential across multiple local authorities, Government takes charge of the strategic planning vision and process.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Housing Communities & Local Government (MHCLG) have now published a bid for £50k for "engagement of stakeholders" for up to four new or expanded settlements along the East West Rail route.

"MHCLG is seeking to procure a planning/engagement specialist to support the Government in developing an approach to engaging local audiences (both stakeholder groups and the public) throughout the process of developing up to four new or expanded settlements in the Oxford-Cambridge Arc (OxCam Arc) aligned with new stations along the East West Rail (EWR) Central Section".

Map shows size of new town

By Alex Spencer

A campaign group has published a map showing the potential extent of a proposed town for a rural area of South Cambridgeshire.

The South West Cambridgeshire Action Group has drawn up the map to allow residents to envisage the impact it would have on neighbouring villages.

West Sussex-based property developer Thakeham unveiled its vision in December for the enormous 25,000-home community in South West Cambridgeshire.

Thakeham says it hopes to create the UK's first zero-carbon development by creating a new town and a series of connecting villages.

It says it would deliver up to 10,000 affordable homes, ensure a biodiversity net gain of at least 20 per cent and deliver new sporting, healthcare, schools and education facilities – and would be sited between Barrington, Bassingbourn-cum-Kneesworth, Foxton, Meldreth, Orwell, Shepreth, Whaddon and Wimpole.

Cllr Susan van de Ven, county councillor for Melbourn, Meldreth, Whaddon and Bassingbourn-cum-Kneesworth, said: "It is very hard to fathom the real scale of the sprawling South West Cambridgeshire new town. The proposal is for 25,000 houses, which is over half as many as make up Cambridge. But these would potentially be spread over an area larger than Cambridge.

"The action group has commissioned a new map which really brings home quite how enormous this could be, especially when seen in relation to Cambridge. I hope that people realise now that this development would wipe out most of the villages and countryside in this river valley setting, as well as the impact on Cambridge itself."

Sebastian Kindersley, county councillor for Barrington, Orwell and Wimpole, said: "The map captures the scale of the proposed urban development. We can see that the impact on the historic city of Cambridge, on the natural environment and on the local communities, would be enormous if this were allowed to go ahead."

Rob Boughton, Thakeham CEO, said: "Thakeham are committed to working in partnership with the local community."

No formal plans have yet been submitted. The government has said South Cambridgeshire District Council will determine the proposals as the planning authority.

An indication of the potential scale of Thakeham's proposed development by the campaign group. Thakeham has not divulged the precise boundaries
